Our Week!

This week we continued to talk about the fall season and spent time discussing the changes that we see during this season. Next week, we will focus on leaves and how they change. During Writer's Workshop, we have started to write true stories from our own lives. I encourage you to ask your child to tell you a story out loud. Sharing their stories out loud will make it easier to transfer their ideas to paper!

This week was also fire prevention week! Our class had a discussion about how we would be safe if there was ever a fire. We discussed the rules we already know about fire safety in school. Talk to your child about your safety plan at home and where your meeting place is!

In Math Workshop, we worked on counting a set of objects and making a matching set with our own objects and then recording the number. Continue to practice counting at home! 😊

FYI

Those of you that are available to volunteer, keep your eyes open for a volunteer calendar! This will be coming home within the next couple of weeks. I will indicate days that work for our schedule and you can sign up for a day(s) to come in. Thank you for being patient as we have gotten used to the routines of school!! 😊
