Our Week!

This week we continued our weather unit and focused mostly on types of clouds and what weather they bring. In math, we continue to work on story problems. We discussed strategies to use when solving a problem and that you always have to show your work! We've started using a number line to help us, as well.

We also learned about living and non-living things. Ask your child to explain to you what the difference is! ☺

I hope you all have a wonderful, warm weekend and have a very happy Mother's Day!
